

Acid mine drainage from sulfide mining cannot be controlled long-term.
No matter how much insurance the mining companies carry it will not protect the water.